South River Technologies Expands Global Presence Through Partnership in Russia

Softline Company Gives SRT Major Global Footprint; Collaboration Software Now Distributed in 39 Countries

ANNAPOLIS, Md.—September 26, 2007—South River Technologies, Inc., (SRT) an innovator in secure file transfer and collaboration software, today announced the signing of a distribution agreement with Softline Company to better serve SRT’s growing customer base in the Russian technology market. With this agreement, Softline becomes the first authorized distributor in Russia for SRT. The signing with Softline brings the company’s total global reach to 39 countries on four continents.

SRT has also recently added resellers in the Netherlands and Austria, and has expanded an existing relationship with a German distributor. In addition to the company’s strong presence in the U.S. and Western Europe, SRT’s presence continues to grow in Asia and Eastern Europe as well.

“Softline has deep technology roots in Russia and we look forward to working with them to expand our presence there. Softline’s recent sale to Territorial Generating Company underscores the demand for collaboration products in the Russian market,” said Michael Ryan, co-founder and CEO, South River Technologies. “Many doors continue to open for SRT as companies around the globe have an increased need for collaborating within and beyond their organizations.”

Softline Company’s customer base includes leading Russian industrial companies, financial structures, educational institutions and state organizations. In addition to IT integration, consulting and training, Softline also provides a comprehensive online shopping portal which will include SRT’s products.
